

Phil is the Head Ceramist, Technical Director and Managing Director of Beever Dental Technology Ltd. During Phil's 22 years as a technician he has attended many courses for both Technicians and Clinicians; his main passion is dental ceramics and has studied under Master Ceramists from around the world such as Oliver Brix, Lee Culp, Dominique Oliver, Richard O'Brien and Luke Barnett.

Phil is also well versed in cosmetic, aesthetic and clinical procedures after attending lectures by highly respected dentists such as Pascal Magne, Galip Gürel, Chris Orr, Elaine Halley and Ken Harris, Phil has also studied many aspects of implant treatment again with both surgeons and technicians alike including Prof Daniel Buser, Prof Urs Belser, Prof Cemal Ulcer, Ashok Sehti, Peter Sochor, Jon Wibberly, Zaki Khanaan, Ian Taylor, and Collin Campbell. Due to this Phil has amassed a great wealth of knowledge in many areas of dentistry.

Phil is always available to discuss cases and offer advice on a wide range of procedures for both technical and clinical situations. Phil is also now lecturing to both Technicians and Clinicians alongside Dr Craig Parker and has had a number of articles published on subjects such as dental photography and complex implant cases. Phil is a Full member of the BACD and a Straumann Platinum approved Technician and a member of BIDST.

Phil is also an active member of both the ADI (The Association of Dental Implantology) and the ITI (International team For Implantology).